DIDN'T STOP; IN HOSPITAL

Moonshiner of Horsepen Tried to Escape From Still He was Running and the Doctors
Probed for the Bullet.

John Ball, of Horsepen Cove, was leaving his still last Thursday with sixteen gallons of mean liquor, ready to dump on the market, when revenue agents Pence, Shumate, Mutter and Ruble requested him to stop and explain to them. He did otherwise and now Ball is in a Bluefield hospital. A large still, just across the Tazewell county line in McDowell was destroyed and much slop and mash.

At Big Branch, near Falls Mills Monday George Grigger, W. H. Buckland, George Martin and Covela McPeak were gathered in by revenue agents Mutter, Grayley, and Joe Wilson. Along with the moonshiners a 20-gallon still and one barrel of beer was confiscated in the name of the law and destroyed. It is said that no difficulty at all was encountered in locating the still, the smoke from the still creating a smoke screen similar to that employed by the U. S. destroyers during the war.

Mutter and Grayley "raided" Horsepen Cove again Tuesday, but returned empty handed, the birds having escaped before they arrived at the designated point.

It is said that the prohibition agents are soon to begin a raid on many homes in the county, due to the reports that hundreds of gallons of blackberry wine have been made recently.

HARRY BUSTON ENTERTAINS.

Harry Buston, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buston, No. 3, Railroad avenue, entertained at his home on Thursday evening in honor of his house guest, Gertrude Wiles of Huntington, West Va. The house was beautifully decorated with sweet peas, fern and golden glow, with pink and yellow being the color scheme and carried out through the entire evening.

Games and contests were enjoyed till a late hour, when lovely refreshments were served to Gertrude Wiles, Rachel Royall, Evelyn Steele, Janice Steele, Virginia Copenhaver, Gertrude McCall, Nancy St. Clair, Nancy Johnson, Mildred Hampton, Trula Lewis, Helen Johnson, Margaret Peery, Maria Bowen, Armstead Scott, Daisy Litz, Eleanor Harman, Messrs Jack Kiser, Ben Johnson, Jack Witten, Rutherford Fleet, Nancy Gillespie, Jr., John Copenhaver, Tommy Repass, Jeter O'Keefe, Geo. W. Gillespie, Albert Peery, Robert Peery, James Kimball, Hayter Thompson, Joe Baker, Joe Jones.

Elizabeth Steele, beautifully attired in blue evening dress with shadow lace presided at the punch bowl, Ida Jones and Virginia Buston assisted the hostess.

EMMETT H. SCOTT.

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Emmett Scott, which occurred on last Thursday, at Mattie Williams Hospital. He had a complication of troubles, which surgical operations failed to relieve. He was about 68 years old, and leaves a wife and two children. Two brothers survive, E. B. Scott, Roanoke, and C. E. Scott, Belfast Mills, Russell county, two sisters, Mrs. Ascue and Mrs. Watkins.

Mr. Scott was a successful merchant and had been identified for years with the business interest and growth of Cedar Bluff. He will be missed sorely in business and church circles, as well as in his family. His stricken wife and family have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances with whom this genial, upright man was universally popular.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will have a picnic on Friday, the 11, in the grove at Pisgah. The teachers and children are asked to be at the church at 2 o'clock when they will be taken in automobiles to the picnic grounds.

All members of the church and the wives and husbands of members and any visitors in the houses are invited to join us about five o'clock, in time for supper to be served at six. Two tents will be put up by the entertainment committee to accommodate any girls and boys wishing to bring bathing suits to go swimming or wading. It is a fine opportunity for the church people to get together—so let all go and have a great day.

COMMITTEE.

COVENANTERS IN CAMP.

The Covenanters have had a great week on Wolfe Creek near Clint Stowers. Eight of them, with two visiting boys and their leader, Houston St. Clair, were accompanied by Mr. A. G. Russell for two days, Rev. W. R. Arrowood for two days and by T. R. Nelson, of Staunton, friend and visitor of Houston St. Clair, who spent this week aiding the youngsters.

Judging from the enthusiasm, the fish caught and all we can hear it has been a wholesome and splendid experience. The party consisted of the following: Albert Peery, President, George Peery, Alec Russell, George William Gillespie, Hyter Thompson, Franklin Edwards, James Grever, Allen Gillespie, John Ellis Jackson, Robert Laird, and Billie Copenhaver visitors.

The attention and kindness of Mr. Stowers and family will long be remembered by these boys.

STORES ROBBED AT RICHLANDS.

Last Thursday night or early Friday morning the jewelry shop of J. L. Hayton, of Richlands, was entered by means of the robbers breaking a window. The loss incurred by Mr. Hayton consisted of silverware and ivory articles. Loss estimated at $150. Not satisfied with this the robbers went up the street to Maxwell's, owned by Mr. Maxwell, of this town, and there stole several suits and other valuable merchandise. The only clue that would lead to the locating of the criminals, was a cap found near the store of Maxwell's. The cap was identified as belonging to Jim Brown. Brown was arrested and put in jail charged with the crime.

CAB HORTON DEAD.

Mr. Cab Horton, well known farmer of Crabs Branch, died Thursday morning at 1:45 o'clock. His death was due to kidney trouble. He was 70 years of age and his wife died three years ago. He is survived by two brothers and one sister: James Horton, Charles Horton and Miss Caroline Pruett. He leaves seven sons and four daughters: George D., Ira E., Calvin, Robert, William and Elbert Horton, Mrs. G. W. Rimmer, Miss Lizzie and Bindey Horton, all of Richlands; Arthur Horton, of Sandy Huff, W. Va., and Mrs. Mary Elkins, of near Ravena, Va.

Funeral held Friday morning, Rev. W. A. McKee and Rev. Graham officiating.

DR. AND MRS. GILLESPIE HERE.
Dr. R. B. Gillespie, of the government hospital at Lake City, Fla. and Mrs. Gillespie, are on vacation. Dr. Gillespie is here, Mrs. Gillespie stopping in Roanoke, and will later visit in Washington and New York.

Dr. Gillespie is feeling fine, but his line Democratic-Presbyterian wife has been unable so far to convert him from the error of his ways either politically or religiously. Success to her future efforts.

VISITORS—HORSE SHOT. OTHER LOCAL NEWS.

Tip Top, Va., Aug. 9.—Mr. Charles Joyce and wife, Mrs. Myrtle Joyce, formerly Miss Myrtle Saunders, with their children, left here on yesterday to return to their home at Portsmouth, Ohio. They have been on a visit to Mr. Joyce's father at Madison, N. C., and Mrs. Joyce's father, McFar Saunders, at Tip Top, and her sister, Mrs. J. D. Farmer, of Baptist Valley.

News reaches Tip Top of the marriage of Miss Ruth Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lester, who moved to Princeton, W. Va., last spring from Tip Top, to Mr. James Bowman, son of John and Mrs. Callie Bowman. Every one here wishes them a long, happy life.

A valuable young horse belonging to Charles McDowell, here, was shot by some unknown party or parties a few days ago, and died soon after being found. Horse was in pasture on north of Stony Ridge.

Farmers here are trying to finish up their meadows and out crops, but have been much hindered by wet weather. Oats are not good. Grass is the best ever, so is corn, some wheat is being threshed, and is about half a crop. Very little fruit in this section.

The primary passed off quietly here on the first. Swanson receiving 19 of the 22 votes cast. Your correspondent here and a lot of other voters and taxpayers would be glad to know why a nominating convention is held to have a man gotten out for congress and then have a hold a primary election to have a candidate selected for U. S. Senate. Have we not enough expense without the primary?

MISS LESLIE RETURNS.

Miss Nancy Leslie has returned from Chicago, where she took a six week's course in the Chicago Musical College under the instruction of Percy Grainger, renowned pianist and composer, in advance of his departure for a concert tour of Norway. She is preparing to re-open her music class here in September.

The Chicago Musical College, one of the largest institutions of its kind in America, maintains a summer course for the benefit of teachers and other advanced pupils who desire that opportunity to receive special instruction between teaching periods. Felix Borowski, famous composer and teacher, is president of the College which draws its pupils from all parts of America.

HENRY FORD FOR PRESIDENT.

Ford has launched his campaign as a candidate for the Presidency of the United States, according to a weekly publication in Detroit. Whether he will run as a Republican or as a Democrat does not seem to have been determined by him.

The claim is made that every Ford agency in the United States is a Ford booster club. Ford is continually hammering Harding and the administration, Republican though he is. The election is a long way off yet. It may happen that a mighty fine business man may be spoiled to make a poor President.

Bristol, Va., Aug. 6.—Question as to the legality of the nomination of John H. Hassinger as Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth Virginia District has arisen here since the O. P. convention of Thursday.

A GREAT TRIP ACROSS THE U.S.

John M. Newton, of Pocahontas, Writes of His Trip to San Francisco to Attend Pythian Meeting.

Santa Fe, New Mexico, Aug. 1.—Our itinerary over the A. T. and Santa Fe Railway gave us three and a half hours stop at this quaint old city. Automobiles furnished by the citizens were waiting for us at the station, with entertaining gentlemen or ladies to guide us wherever we wanted to go. Most of your readers know that this is the capital of New Mexico, and in, perhaps, the oldest city in the United States.

The country through Colorado and New Mexico is not unlike we expected to see. We had drawn on our imagination quite correctly. But this city is different from anything we had imagined. It is such a bringing together of the ancient and modern, the past and the present. The doors were thrown wide open to us and we were invited to inspect the city and surrounding rooms. Governor McMeekin was one of the first gentlemen we met after alighting at old St. Michael's Church, the oldest church in the United States, with the possible exception of one at St. Augustine, Fla. He personally welcomed us to the state and to the city, and afterwards a reception was held at the mansion for the women of our party, at which Mrs. McMeekin proved a very agreeable entertainer. Gov. McMeekin inquired about Mr. Slomp, who seemed to be a friend of his.

One of the entertainments provided for us here was at the State Museum, which consisted of Indian dances. A platform on the South side of the building had been erected, and after the Indians, dressed like eagles, had danced their several songs, the party was photographed in the hot sun. A trip through the museum is interesting and instructive; lots of pictures, some of which are works of art of considerable merit; others look well from a distance but a closer examination will reveal heavy daubing or smearing. Mexican and Indian relics or curios are much in evidence, also a petrified body of one of the cliff dwellers, and a chair in which Gen. Lew Wallace transcribed the notes for Ben Hur. Gen. Wallace was Governor of New Mexico from 1879 to 1881.

The stages of architecture will instantly attract the attention of a visitor from the East. Much of this is, I judge, what is known as the Spanish or Mission style, and, of course, the adobe houses or huts of the Mexicans, who form possibly 75 per cent of the population. The Indians are also numerous and I understand they also use the adobe huts. I was pointed out a handsome building on the Spanish style of architecture which was intended for a hotel—but the cost was so great the promoters were unable to figure out a profit on the investment and abandoned the idea.

This is a clean, well kept city, and thoroughly sanitary. Dr. K. M. Swartz of the County Health Department, who took me in his car over the city, told me it had not rained here since February. Although July and August are the rainy season not a drop of rain had fallen in July. He took me out to the tuberculosis sanatorium where numbers of tuberculous patients are cared for, the city being known far and near for its fine climate for these sufferers, many of whom make inadequate financial provision for their coming and worry over this as well as the folks at home, the result being that they cannot do so well. Others delay their coming until too late, and suffer the inevitable. But this is a great and beneficent institution and many are being permanently relieved. The writer met a handsome young man from South Carolina named Sullivan, who came here three years ago, before the disease had made much headway. He seems to be permanently cured, and is spending some time in the city.

On the South side of the sanatorium Dr. Swartz pointed out to me "The Million Dollar View"; most beautiful from the scenic standpoint. The first range of mountains estimated by me to be five miles distant was 25 miles, and a higher range further on was 65 miles. The city has many beautiful shade trees. One kind of tree that looked beautiful because of a flower it grows is called the Tamerisk tree, and can also be used as a hedge. Although it has not rained since February I saw some very pretty gardens; not very numerous however. The water they use is obtained from artesian wells, both here and at Albuquerque. Not much farming. The Mexicans raise beans. In some sections here it is said that the natives live on beans and tourists.

This is a Catholic stronghold. Other denominations can do little with the Mexican population, unless they get hold of them when they are young. The Presbyterians are doing a good work in their hospital here, and the Methodists at Albuquerque. These are open to everybody, and numbers take advantage of the excellent opportunity for treatment, and many come under the influence of the gospel by the healing method.

The land is pretty well covered over with a grey grass called mesquite (pronounced mesquit). The Mexicans make an intoxicating drink called Tequila (pronounced more like takola) out of cactus. It is said to be about as mean as some of our moonshine and is called by some "Liquid Murder." A great deal of this is brought over from old Mexico. At the distance I live from them it may be safe to say that these Mexicans seem to be a lazy, shiftless set, and practically unreliable. Their moral standards (?) are said to be nil. Yes, this may all be due to their opportunities, and lack of encouragement, to say nothing of environment. They can live on very little, whole families of them. The Indians are possibly more progressive, though not much, if any, better looking.

We were royally treated at Santa Fe, and wished our stay could have been longer. A well cooked and well served dinner in a clean Greek restaurant for myself and the gentleman with me cost less for both of us than it would cost for one in the East.

VISITOR TALKS ABOUT MUSCLE SHOALS.

Mr. Fletcher Ashcraft, Birmingham, connected with the large National Supply Company, was here this week, and was asked about Muscle Shoals and the Ford proposition. He said that the entire Southland and the West as well, was in hearty sympathy with the project and scheme of Mr. Ford. That the scheme is plausible and reasonable, he said, was evident from the crowd who is fighting it. He said, that before Mr. Ford proposed to buy the plants at Muscle Shoals the whole business was regarded as worthless—a pile of junk, but by Mr. Ford's proposition, the entire plant immediately became of immense value. Before Ford, nobody would have it, afterwards, every body is evident—the fertilizer and other trusts, including the packers of Chicago, cotton spinners, etc., of New England.

YOU CANNOT FAIL TO MAKE THE BEST BREAD WITH GWINN'S JEFFERSON Crushed Wheat Flour

In the last two decades more marked progress has been made along industrial lines than in any like period in the history of human race. On every hand we have had improvement, but IN NO DEPARTMENT HAS GREATER PROGRESS BEEN MADE THAN IN THE MILLING INDUSTRY.

The rapidly changing demands of the discriminating consumer for better flour from which to make the "staff of life" have taxed to the utmost the skill of milling engineering.

To meet this demand we have completed the most MODERN MILL IN AMERICA, and in order to produce the most sanitary and perfect flour we have located this mill on the highest elevation in the City of Columbus, remote from the manufacturing district and its smoke nuisance.

This mill is the result of an experience acquired in TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF ACTIVE MILL OPERATION, equipped with the most sanitary machinery and appliances known to milling science and is designed especially to produce the only FLOUR WITH A VELVET FINISH known as CRUSHED WHEAT FLOUR.

Only the choicest portion of the wheat berry is used in the production of our CRUSHED WHEAT FLOUR, that containing all the best elements, gluten and pure phosphates which produces a FLOUR SUPERIOR IN STRENGTH, BAKES BREAD, PIES AND CAKES MORE WHOLESOME AND MORE EASILY DIGESTED.

The use of the choicest portion of the wheat berry only, the special process and attention necessary to produce our CRUSHED WHEAT FLOUR, make it a little higher priced, but the small difference in cost is much more than compensated for in the quality of your bread and pastry.

Every sack and barrel of Crushed Wheat Flour bearing our brand, GWINN'S JEFFERSON, made from the choicest selected wheat, scientifically blended, is a quality flour—pure, clean and wholesome, and will meet your every requirement for bread or pastry.

In buying this flour YOU ARE GUARANTEED MONEY'S WORTH OR MONEY BACK, if it bears our Serial Number 20870 and signature on every package. We are sole owners of our individual process of manufacturing CRUSHED WHEAT FLOUR WITH A VELVET FINISH.

NOTICE—We offer a liberal reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons using our serial number, label design, counterfeiting our signature or claiming to use our special process for producing crushed wheat flour with a velvet finish, for the purpose of deceiving and defrauding consumers.
